The TIMES is a newspaper. It never claimed to be anything else, and would not be anything else. It will never submit to the degradation of being merely a party organ.

There are 18 men at work on the new sidetrack in Halley. They only use picks and shovels but are making a road bed pretty rapidly, nevertheless. In about one week it will be ready for the rails.

If you don't want to bring your political work to the TIMES, you need not; but if you do give it an order, you must expect to put up the cash like a man. If this is "blackmailing," then blackmailing goes.

School Trustee Warren is mentioned as a candidate for County Commissioner. Mr. Warren is a good, square man, the head of a large family, and not a derogatory word can be breathed against him.

Baldness may be prevented, and a thick growth of hair stimulated, by the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor. This preparation also restores the natural color to gray hair, and renders it soft, pliant, and glossy.

THE GOLD BELT.

It will Certainly "Boom" Next Spring—A Narrow Gauge Railway Indispensable.

From present appearances, the Gold Belt will boom next year. There are two mills there already, a third one is in course of construction, and the company about to be organized in New York to purchase the Tip-top, Jumbo, Alaska, etc., will make a considerable stir next spring.

This company is to have a capital of $500,000, and to purchase, operate and exploit mines, and construct and operate mills. As water cannot be got in sufficient quantities on the Gold Belt, the mills will have to be built here. A narrow-gauge railway will, of course, become indispensable, and as John Gilman has already got one-fourth of the road graded and ties on hand for one-half of it, it can be completed at any time within six months from the date upon which work is commenced.

That this will be done very shortly there is scarcely any doubt; and when it is done, the daily output will be so large that it will astonish the world.

The TIMES has always asserted that in the Gold Belt of Alturas county we could boast the possession of a second Comstock. The truth of that assertion will soon be demonstrated.

JOHN M. MOORE,

One of the Original Owners of the Minnie Bonanza, Falls in New York City.

The TIMES learns, from the Portland Daily News, that John M. Moore, the banker and broker who failed in New York City about a week ago, was formerly postmaster of Salt Lake, and for the past four years has been secretary of the Moulton mine, one of the principal dividend-paying mines of Butte.

The Minnie Moore mine, of Wood River, which was recently sold to an English company for $800,000, was named after one of his daughters. He owned a fourth-interest, which he disposed of several years ago for $20,000.

Ten times that amount would not buy that fourth-interest now.

THE HORN SILVER COMPANY.

Its Investment at Era Represents Fully $200,000.

Superintendent Rippetoe, of the Horn Silver mine and mill, at Era, says that his company's investment there will amount to a good round $200,000 before they get a cent of returns; but when they do begin, they will be quite satisfactory. He does not put too much faith in the proposition, however, as he believes mining to be "worse than stealing."

If he were a legislator, he would make of stealing petty larceny and mining grand larceny.

A Bill.

For six months the TIMES has been advertising the Hartsfeld Portable Smelting Furnace. At the expiration of the first quarter the bill was sent as per contract; there was no response. Two other bills having been likewise unnoticed, the account was placed in the hands of Kingsbury & McGowan. They sent it to their correspondent at Newport, Ky., the headquarters of the Hartsfeld Company, who writes as follows: "Bill can't be collected, as there is no property. Shall I sue? Such bills as this are coming from all parts of the Union."

The TIMES therefore advises the Ketchum Keystone, Coeur d'Alene Sun, and all other newspapers running the "ad." to drop it, as the company is evidently insolvent—a fraud and bilk.

The "Honest Miner."

HE FEELS HIS WAY.

With keen look and cunning look
He singles out his game,
And talks of well-known mining camps,
For he knows them all by name,
And with keen look and cunning look
He hints about his claim.

HE ROMANCES.

With glowing words and strong words
He tells the wondrous tale
Of a ledge he has discovered
On a lonely Indian trail;
And his glowing words and strong words
Make the listener's cheek turn pale.

YOU BELIEVE IT.

With watchful eye and shrewd eye
He notes your eager face,
As you scan the glittering specimen
Where the free gold you can trace;
And his watchful eye and shrewd eye
Can put your thoughts in place.

HE COMES DOWN TO BUSINESS.

In plain words and business words
He offers you a chance
To make a fortune speedily,
But first you must advance;
In plain words and business words,
You must pay before you dance.

YOU WILL DANCE.

With ready pen and swift pen
He writes a bill of sale
Which gives you half an interest
In the mine on the Indian trail;
And his ready pen and swift pen
Confirms the dazzling tale.

YOU PART, TO MEET WHEN?

In a cool way and careless way
Your money then he takes,
And appoints a place of meeting
As your hand he warmly shakes,
Then in cool way and careless way
Saunters off, and pulls his stakes.

RETROSPECTION.

The keen look and cunning look
Was useful in the game,
And the glowing words and strong words
Proved a bona fide claim,
Whilst the watchful eye and shrewd eye
Told him you gulped the same.
The plain words and business words,
Backed by the ore in sight,
Filled your heart, poor honest miner,
With feelings of delight;
And the ready pen and swift pen
Made it sure in black and white.

The cool way and careless way
He raked your duce in,
On the strength of a stolen specimen
And a liberal dose of chin,
Is not a pleasant memory,
So you seek relief in gin;
But no horse humint ever brewed,
And disguised by another name,
Will ever restore the money and faith
You lost when you bought your claim.

A WONDERFUL LAKE.

Oregon Shows One of the Primeval Wonders Never Known of Until Letely—A "Crater" Lake.

The party sent out by the Geological Survey, under the command of Captain Clarence E. Dutton, U. S. A. has succeeded in reaching and making a complete survey of Crater Lake, in Oregon, a body of water whose shores with the possible exception of one point on the south, have never before been touched by the feet of white men.

The party's boats were hauled a hundred miles by mule teams, dragged by a detail of soldiers up the snow-laden sides of the ridge which surrounds the lake, and lowered by ropes from the crest to the water, 900 feet below. One hundred and sixty soundings were made, the result of which gave the general character of the lake bottom. Two large submerged cinder stones were found respectively 800 and 1,200 feet high, the rest of the bottom being flat. Captain Dutton believes this to be the best body of fresh water on the continent. The greatest depth attained by the sounding line was 2,005 feet.

Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at J. A. Rupert's drug store.
